

Summary

Teachers' communicative preparedness for older preschoolers' diagnosis

The article raises the problem of preparing teachers to diagnose older preschoolers. In particular, consider the level of communicative competence of teachers, developed communication skills which will meet modern requirements for the diagnosis of children.

Keywords: pedagogical diagnosis, older preschoolers, communicative competence, teachers' preparedness for diagnosis.

Olga V. Chindilova – master of Pedagogical Science, Associated Professor of Chair of Primary and Preschool education of APK and PPRO, Moscow.

Lyudmila Anatolyevna Gridneva – Head of Department of Preschool and primary education KGOU "Kamchatka Institute of Advanced Studies of teachers".

The environmental culture development of primary school teachers' students

The role of psychology and pedagogic disciplines in environmental culture development of the students of Pedagogics and methods of elementary level of education faculty is considered. The article illustrates ecological content of these disciplines. It also displays the efficiency of the process of environmental culture development of the students.

Keywords: environmental culture, ecologization.

Alsu R. Garifullina – lecturer of the Pedagogics and Psychology for Primary Education Department of Naberezhnye Chelny State Pedagogical Institute, Naberezhnye Chelny.

Composition construction on employment by the fine arts with younger schoolboys

The construction of a composition from lines and colour at the lessons of fine arts in an additional education is considered in this article. At the lessons the perception and composition creation is carried out stage by stage: 1) during perception of products of the fine arts and acquaintance with means and laws of a composition – children watch a slide film and play composite game; 2) children draw a composition during their art-graphic activity, using graphic editor CorelDRAW.

Keywords: a composition, its means and laws, fine arts, computer drawing, younger schoolboys, composite thinking.

Olga N. Chigintseva – senior teacher of the Aesthetic Education Department at Institute of Pedagogics and Childhood Psychology of Ural State Pedagogical University, Ekaterinburg.

Formation of quality management in primary school

In this article we discuss the maintenance of headmaster's work about formation of quality management in primary school. Indicators are also described. They allow the ruling system to change the quality of educational system by changing incoming influence.

Keywords: quality management.

Natalya V. Voynelenko – headmaster of the municipal special educational institution for students with limited health abilities of special boarding school (the 5th type) № 11, Chelyabinsk.

The teacher's assessment of a pupil' actual condition at the education process

In article the importance of the account by the teacher of an actual condition of the pupil in the course of education is considered, shown creative and destructive variants of a condition lived by the child, importance of support of balance between external and private world of the subject for the purpose of its personal development. The way "concentration on positive" as key for the purpose of decrease in an adverse condition of the pupil.

Keywords: education, an actual condition of the pupil, internal and an external world, personal development.

Svetlana I. Popova – Candidate of Pedagogics, Associated Professor at the Higher School Pedagogics Department of Moscow State Pedagogical University, Cherepovets, Vologod region.

The analysis of pedagogic potential of cartoons

The article demonstrates that cartoon being a factor of media-environment and kind of art contain the pedagogic potential. The analysis and comparison of soviet time and modern cartoons movies provided. Resume: Modern native and foreign cartoon movies don't meet requirements of moral, labor and aesthetic education.

Keywords: media-environment, cartoons, pedagogic factors, pedagogic potential, art.

Anna F. Laletina – postgraduate at the Natural Science and It's Teaching Methodology at Primary School Department of Ural State Pedagogical University, Ekaterinburg.

Collaboration and communication of children under school age in the representational activity

In the article the creative potential of the personality of the child of preschool age is examined, art therapy of depictive skill, form and methods of organizing the joint activity are described. In the article the importance of occupations on the depictive activity for the mental making of a personality of the child of preschool age is revealed.

Keywords: collaboration of preschoolers, contact of preschoolers, art therapy, depictive skill, creativity, creative potential, cognitive development of personality, joint activity.

Svetlana V. Kahnovich – Candidate of Pedagogics, Associated Professor of the Pre-school and Elementary Education Pedagogic Department of the Evseevina Mordvinian State Pedagogical Institute, Saransk, Mordovia.

Sports as a factor of person and society development

Given article is devoted to the development of the person and the society by means of sports. People, going in for sports, thereby mechanically influence national relations, the business life, the social standing, forms the fashion, ethical values, the way of life of people. The author described which problems are in this sphere and the ways to solve them.

Keywords: sports activity; mass sports; leisure; socialization

Andrey L. Afanasev – main specialist at "Moskomsport" Centre of Sports and Innovation Technique", a postgraduate at Sociology, Political Sciences and Economy Department of Moscow City Pedagogical University, Moscow.